Our Objectives

Our Objectives

Create the most efficient rewards-based cryptocurrency leveraging the Solana network.

Enable users to generate passive income in the form of SOL rewards through the ownership of $PROTY

Foster a decentralized and fair financial ecosystem accessible to all.

Drive innovation within the platform through community-led governance.

Utilize the high-speed, scalable, and efficient Solana blockchain to enhance user experience.

02

Token design

Token Design

The $PROTY token is designed with a specific fee and reward structure to encourage holding and active participation within the ecosystem:

Our reward calculation and redistribution system is optimized through an innovative mathematical model, setting us apart from the competition by ensuring maximum efficiency and fairness in the allocation of SOL rewards to $PRINT token holders

Buying and Selling Fees

There is a 10% fee on all buy and sell transactions. This fee is split to support various aspects of the token's economy.

Transfer Fees

Transfers of $PROTY tokens include a 2.5% fee to operation wallet

Reward Distribution

Out of the fees collected from buying and selling, 7.5% is allocated as rewards to $PROTY token holders. These rewards are automatically distributed to the wallets of the token holders, providing a direct incentive for holding the token.

Token supply

The total supply of $PROTY tokens is capped at 10,000,000, creating a finite resource that can help in maintaining the token's value over time.

Token Design

This fee and reward structure is designed to balance the token's liquidity, reward loyal token holders, and ensure the long-term sustainability of the $PROTY token within the Solana ecosystem. The automatic distribution of rewards simplifies the process for users, as they do not need to claim or stake their tokens to receive the benefits.
